Galt High was pretty good in my freshman year but as a sophomore I was in and out of trouble so I went to Estrilleta at semester change in the middle of the year.

The upheaval of tearing down and building up of last year gave way this year to the confusion of the new and different.

The student body, 872 strong — numbering 167 seniors, 198 juniors, 232 sophomores, and 275 freshmen — found many things brand new, along with the well-worn and familiar.

They had to find the offices which had moved into new quarters over the summer, to discover which teacher had what classroom, and above all, to size up the new teachers.

After the flurry of settling in, we discovered that everything was basically unchanged. The same classes met, the same activities came around and that school life again assumed the comfortable feel of well-worn levis.

"Though this be madness, yet there is method in it"—Shakespeare

ACADEMICS

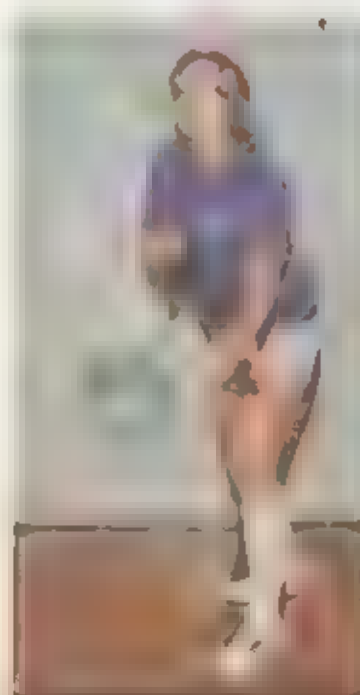

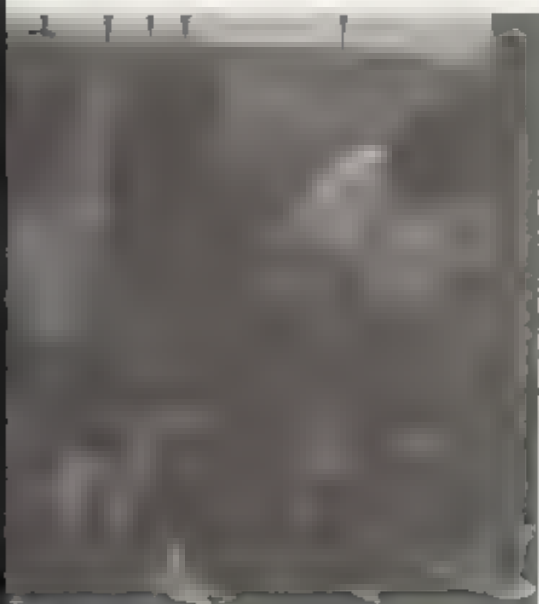

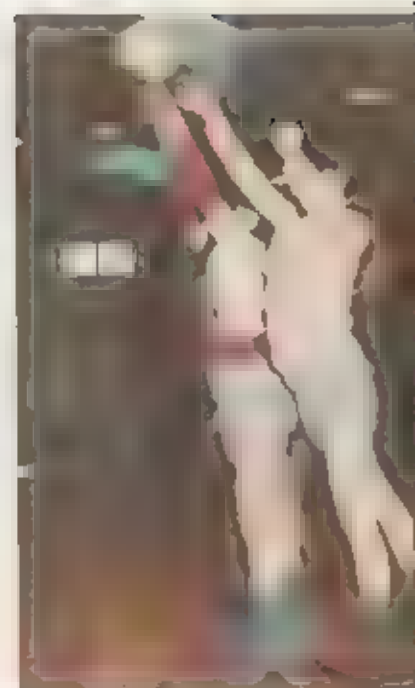

1. Mrs. Rose Gonzales. 2. Miss Diane McKellar. 3. Trampoline exercises can be very tiresome and strenuous. 4. Girls pose for a picture while waiting to play field hockey. 5. Girls demonstrate how bows are to be handled. 6. Vickie Lewis and Bobby Gore both want to hit the ball over the net. 7. Tremendous effort is put into the game of volleyball

Girls' PE

Girls PE is a required class for all female students, with a few exceptions. It's purpose is to help girls get themselves physically fit, and to remain that way. Girls PE offers a variety of activities and sports including basketball, badminton, archery, tennis, field hockey, body mechanics, self-defense, gymnastics, speed-away, soccer, track, volleyball, and baseball. Two sports which would normally be considered boys' sports, golf and flag football are also offered to girls. All these sports are taught by three well trained PE instructors, Mrs. Rose Gonzales, Mrs. Barbara Borem, and Miss Diane McKellar.

11. Kathy Dais shows how a shuttle cock should be served in badminton. 12. and 13. Girls hustle all over the field to get the ball in speed-away.

8. Girls eagerly anticipate the sport of field hockey. 9. Julie Rose shows that girls can play golf too. 10. Mrs. Barbara Borem.

Boys Physical Education

Boys' physical education is required for all four years of high school. Young men involved in interscholastic sports are not required to enter the class.

The students keep themselves in good physical shape by different activities throughout the year. Some of these are football, basketball, softball, track, bodybuilding, wrestling, tennis, handball, badminton, volleyball, and soccer. The instructors are Mr. Ervin Hatzenbuhler, Mr. Alex Nicolaou, and Mr. Harold Fuller

1. Nathan Worthen looks mean
2. The new swimming pool in use
3. Football is played in the fall
4. Mr. Nicolau
5. Mr. Hatzenbuhler
6. Mr. Fuller teaches the fundamentals of wrestling.
7. Everyone misses sometime.

Industrial Arts

Industrial Arts department was able to offer eleven classes this year. Mr. Phil Nelson, chairman, Mr. Tom Champion, and Mr. Bill Hine staffed the department. Woodshop I covered good work habits, and shop procedures for groundwork. The advanced class, Technical Working was complicated in that it offered upholstery, job availability, and field trips to industries

Two classes of Mechanics were offered. They covered equipment, planning, work habits and procedures

There were three levels of drafting offered. Advanced, after the basics gave students a chance to carry out specialized projects.

Basic Electricity showed students how to use equipment and to service appliances. Advanced students were given more complicated work to do

1 Mr. Nelson's Woodshop I 2 Robert Aldrich welds a project 3 Nick Captein runs a grinder 4. Mike Costa, Aldrich, and Ken Edwards practice welding. 5. Mr. Champion, helps Mike Hansen with his cedar chest. 6. Mr. Heine unravels wiring for students. 7. Fire trucks show up for the little conflagration

ROP

The Sacramento Regional Occupational Program is a unique approach to vocational education, developed cooperatively by the Sacramento County Office of Education and ten participating school districts. ROP offers over forty occupational classes with Retail Sales being the most popular followed by Health Ancillary Training (H.A.T.S.). Each class has at least one very well qualified instructor.

Business

The business department is made up of 13 classes. The intention of each class is to teach students how to handle their own business when the time comes and how it might feel to actually be a secretary, an accountant, a stenographer, or another business personnel. Mr. LaFranchi, the department chairman, teaches record keeping, typing I, personal finance, and he also teaches foundations in math. A new addition to our teaching staff, Mr. Beath, teaches typing I and II, careers business, office machines, duplicating process, and general office. Mr. Edgar, another new teacher at Galt, teaches typing I and II, accounting I and II, vocational education supervisor, and steno I.

1. Natalie Bender adds the time away
2. Carolyn Camarillo is a hard worker in typing.
3. and 4. The secretaries of the future are the typists of today

Mr. Edgar aids Terry Swiger in setting the margins.

Mr. LaFranchi.

Mr. Beath

Mr. Edgar.

Agriculture

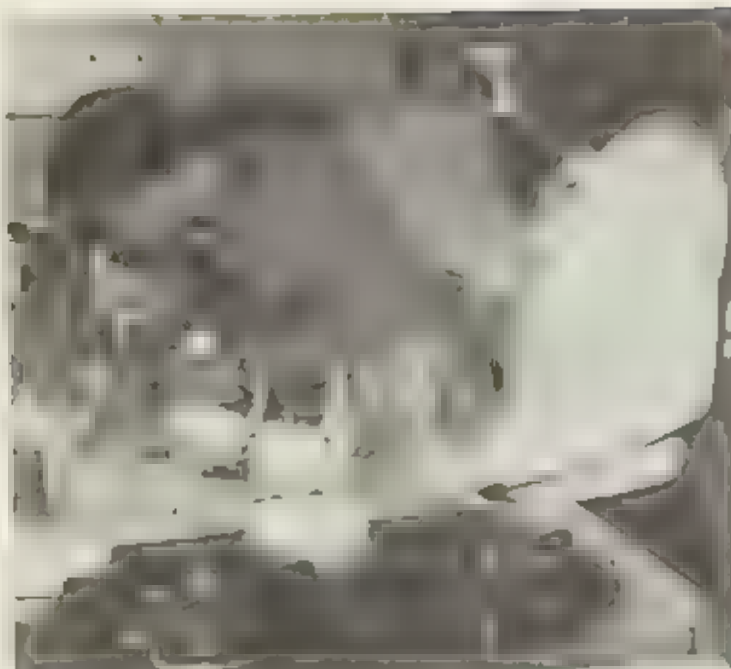

The Agriculture department involves seven classes. There are ag-science classes, mechanics and wildlife classes, anything that has to do with agriculture is in this department. The instructors for agriculture are Mr. Neal Cook and Mr. Hohn Strohmaier

1. Charlie Cook displays his pig. 2. Fred Denier with his calf. 3. Agriculture classes are not always outdoors. 4. Mr. Cook instructs his class. 5. James and John Huisman show off their sheep. 6. Mr. Cook instructs Mike Costa, Richard Zimmerman, and Kenny Edwards

Home Economics

The Home Economics department consists of seven classes: needlecraft, interior decorating, boys' cooking, home ec. 1, home ec. 2, clothing, and foods. The goal of each class is to prepare students for life after graduation and to get them accustomed to helping themselves.

Students learn such skills as cooking domestic and foreign foods, crocheting, knitting, weaving, and making clothes and other things such as bean bag chairs.

The classes, instructed by Miss Ladue, and Mrs. Krause, welcomed guest speakers from different fields of occupations to speak to the students concerning their jobs and sometimes giving demonstrations.

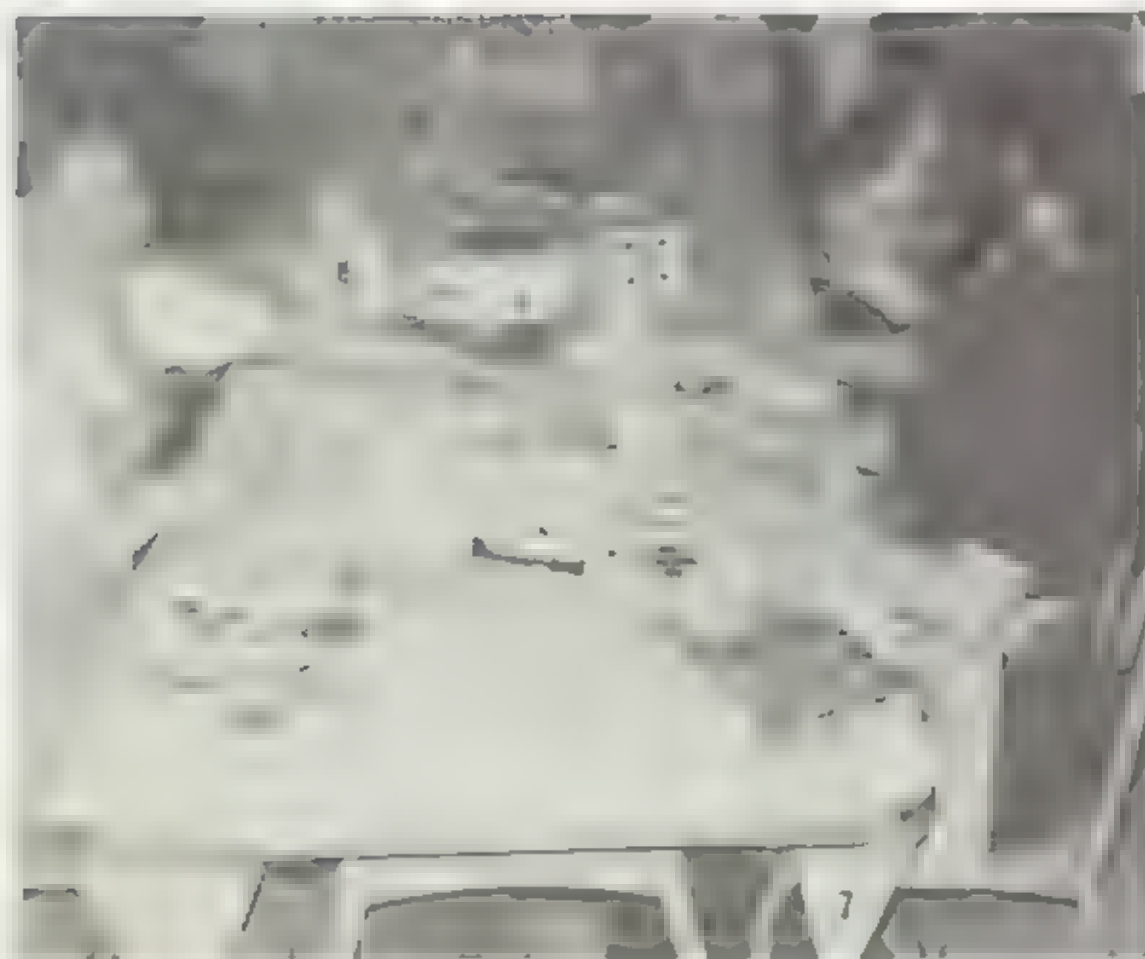

Instructor, Miss Jan Ladue.

Instructor, Mrs. Pam Krause.

1. Debbie Lansford and her sister Diane work hard to finish their gingerbread houses. 2. Don Cathey, Clyde Hoff, Dale Greenie, and Lyn Ortiz, are proud of the pizza they made. 3. Mrs. Krause gives instructions to Tricha Gore. 4. Henry Keesee can't wait to get his hands into the bowl. 5. A smorgy is always welcomed by students in boys' cooking. 6. Clay Chandler and Ed Mason feast on a meal they prepared for themselves. 7. Girls find it a challenge to make gingerbread houses.

Science

As dull as it sounds when Mr. Gray or Mrs. Overboe tells you that you must take at least one year of science to graduate from good Ol' Galt High, come class time, it may surprise you to find science a very interesting and varied subject with some very interesting and varied instructors, namely Mr. Lawrence Kroeger, science department chairman; Miss Karyn Schluter and Mr. James Gentry.

Among the subjects you can choose from are the college-preparatory classes of biology, chemistry and physics. Or, if you prefer, there are the classes of investigation in science, life science, botany, zoology, earth science and human science.

After the final examinations are over, the year is through and you've finally completed your science requirement, you'll not only know what not to mix up in a test tube or why the sky is blue, but you'll also have many memories of the experiences and the experiments your instructor, your classmates and you have shared.

Mr. James Gentry

Mr. Larry Kroeger

Science takes concentration.

Science students discuss the answers to the end-of-chapter questions while they get ready for the next experiment.

It looks as if Mr. Gentry would rather watch the camera instead of his biology class.

'No, that's not the answer!' This seems to be what this MCS (male chauvanist scientist) is saying to his lab partner

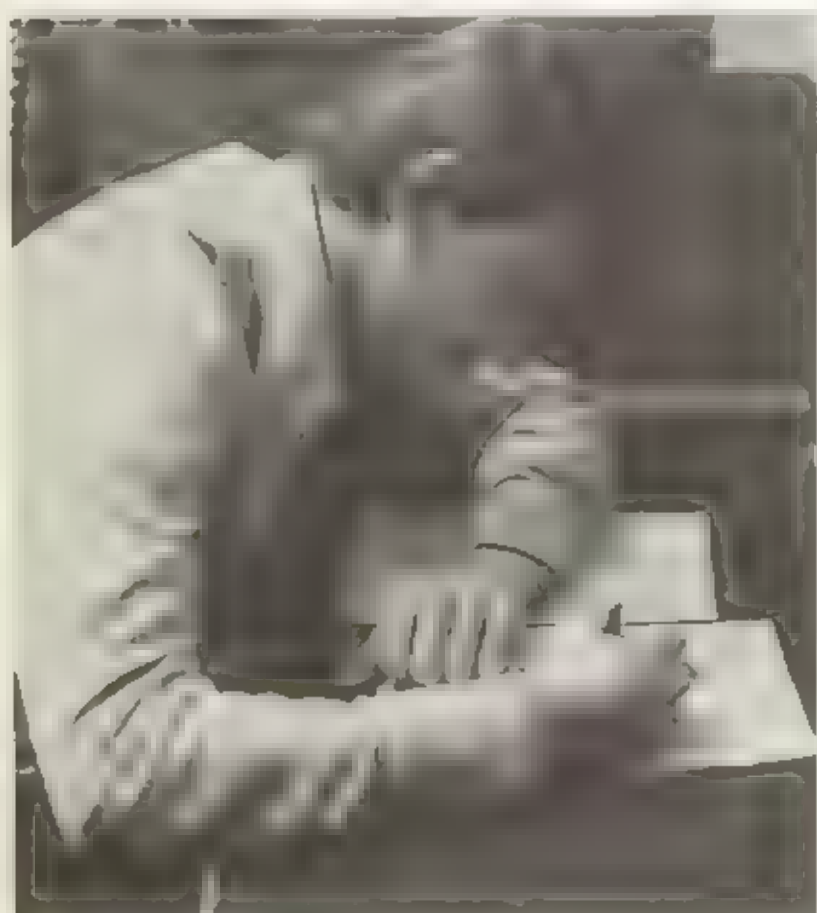

Karen Seifert and Lani Lexau use biology time to its fullest as Karen measures chemicals and Lani observes an experiment take place.

Communication Arts

This department offered much more than the mandatory x, y, or z English classes. For college-bound seniors, English 4x and 4y, combined into one class for the first time in our school's history, offered a chance to brush up on grammar, composition and literature

Other classes offered to students were Journalism I, Advanced Journalism, in which the bi-weekly "Warrior" was written; three speech classes (Personal Speech, Speech Arts, and Forensics), and a one-semester substitute for English 3x, Survey of American Drama.

1. Eugenia Olson, department head. 2 Eldred Scott. 3. Fred Denier vs. English 2x. 4 Jim Prichard. 5. Robert Hilder. 6. Linda Lenards work on the "Warrior" 7 Ken Lucas. Not pictured Gerry Johnson, Jane Volbrecht, and John Casey

1. Audrey Reed, Dorrie DeAngelo and Lynda Wright clown around in Drama. 2. Marie Pratton studies. 3 Shelley Grenz and Wendy Barquist discuss test scores. 4. Mr. Scott helps 1x-er Jeannie Miller. 5. Mrs. Volbrecht's 3y class uses class time to its fullest

Social Studies

The social studies department scheduled classes on a semester basis. Family Life was a popular choice of the students, followed by psychology and civics which is a required class for seniors. The chairman of the department is Mr. David Olson. Mr. Don Nottoli, Mr. Lee Roberts, and Mr. Mike Millet are members of the department. Mr. Nicolau also teaches a course or two in the department.

The classes cover several periods in history such as Spanish American, European, and ancient.

Mr. David Olson

Mr. Mike Millet

1. Kim Calvert and Paul Giddens read. 2. George Hebert poses for photo. 3. Angie Mansur takes a test.

1. Mr. Millet explains the instructions. 2. Robin Carver double checks her answers.

Mr. Lee Roberts

Mr. Don Nottoli.

Fine Arts

The Fine Arts department had three sections in music, art, and drama that carry the bulk of the cultural program on campus. These sections are separate, yet they are definitely the fine arts.

There are four art sections under the direction of Mr. Ernest Heim covering everything from basic fundamentals to highly advanced art and drafts. Students can paint with acrylics and oils, do silk screening, many things in original design in the crafts class such as rug making, decoupage, mosaics and candle making.

There are seven classes open to students in the music field. Mr. Jim Spratt is the music director. The advanced band is an extension of the instrumental classes. In addition, a stage band class is available to students who audition successfully. In vocal music, students can sign into mixed chorus or girls glee club.

For the student who is not a performing musician, music appreciation is offered along with and His Culture covering the arts, the theater, literature and music.

Three levels of dramatic instruction are offered to students. These range from Drama I to Drama III. A full range of these courses cover the many techniques of stage production from acting to technical study. Mr. Jim Pritchard, who joined the faculty this year is drama instructor.

1. Mr. Pritchard's drama class. 2. The class in guitar. 3. Debbie Nygard in THE MOUSE THAT ROARED. 4. Rene Mattheus uses paste. 5. Pam Cox? 6. Bernie Gomes, one of 5,000 in 50 bands at Cal. 7. Mr. Spratt Directs at Homecoming. 8. Debbie Dodge works on art project. 9. Janet Loffelbein in crafts class.

Mathematics

The mathematics department has something for everybody. Aside from the math that is required for a student to graduate, there are courses for those interested in advanced math.

Mr. Gene Nunez, chairman of the department, and Mr. Pat Haller are the full time instructors. In addition, Mr. Kroeger, Mr. Spratt, and Mr. Lucas instruct some classes in the department.

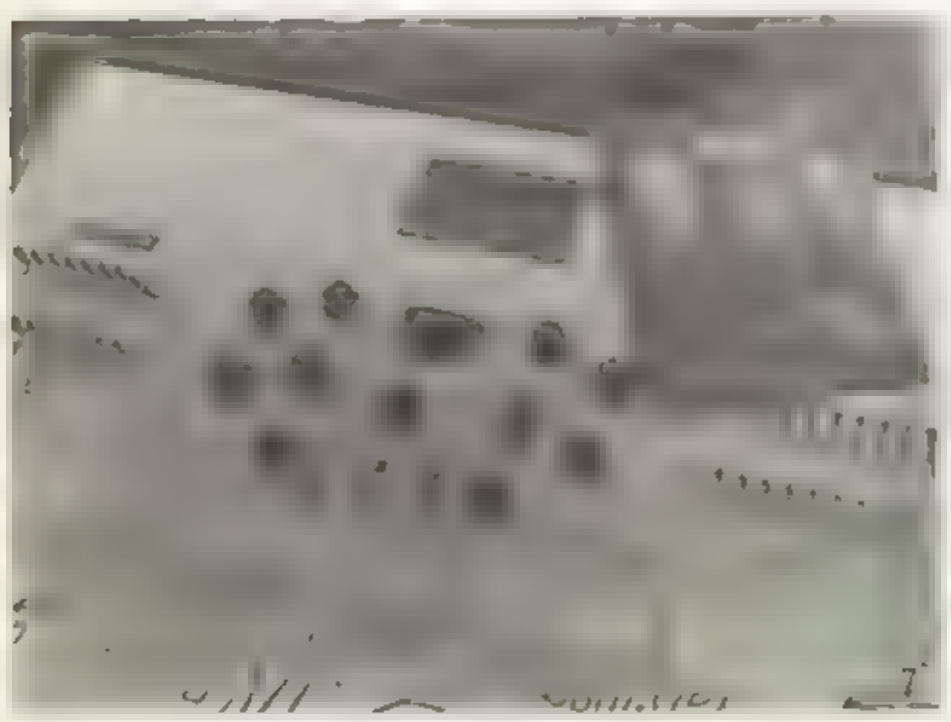

Mr. Nunez works on tests.

Mr. Gene Nunez

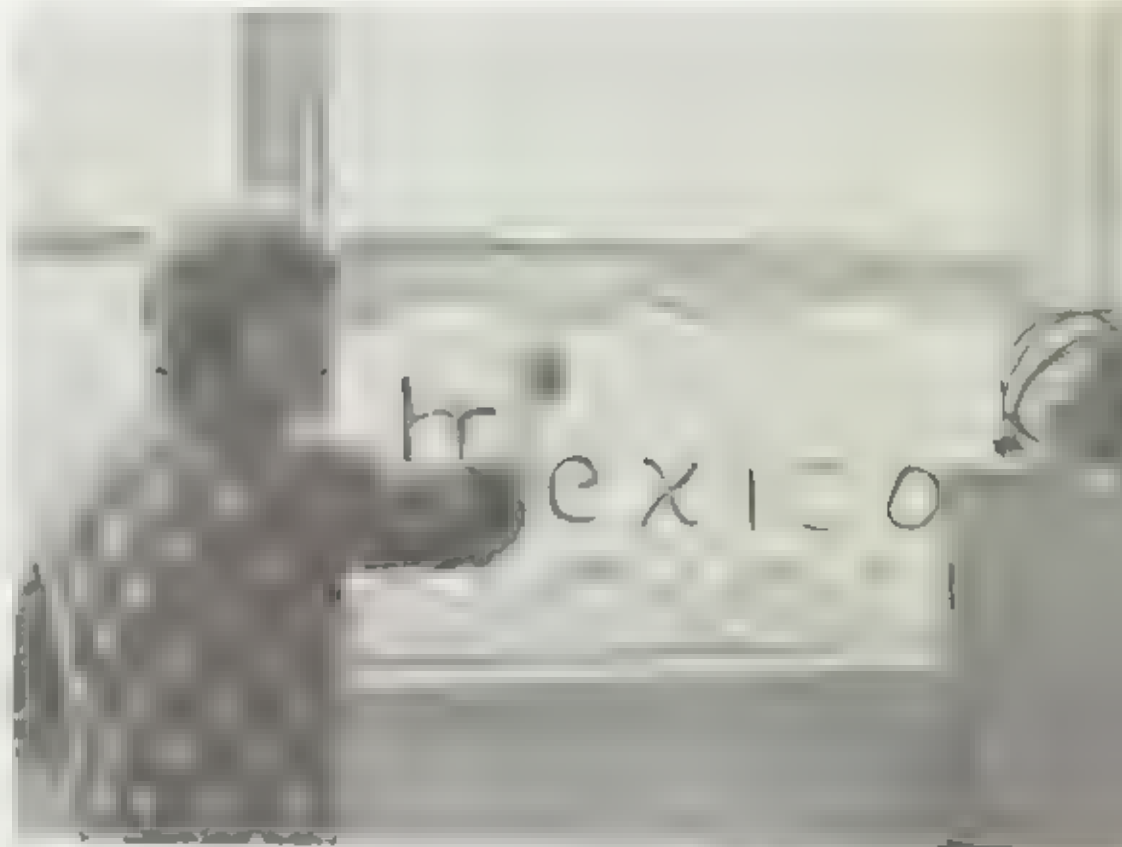

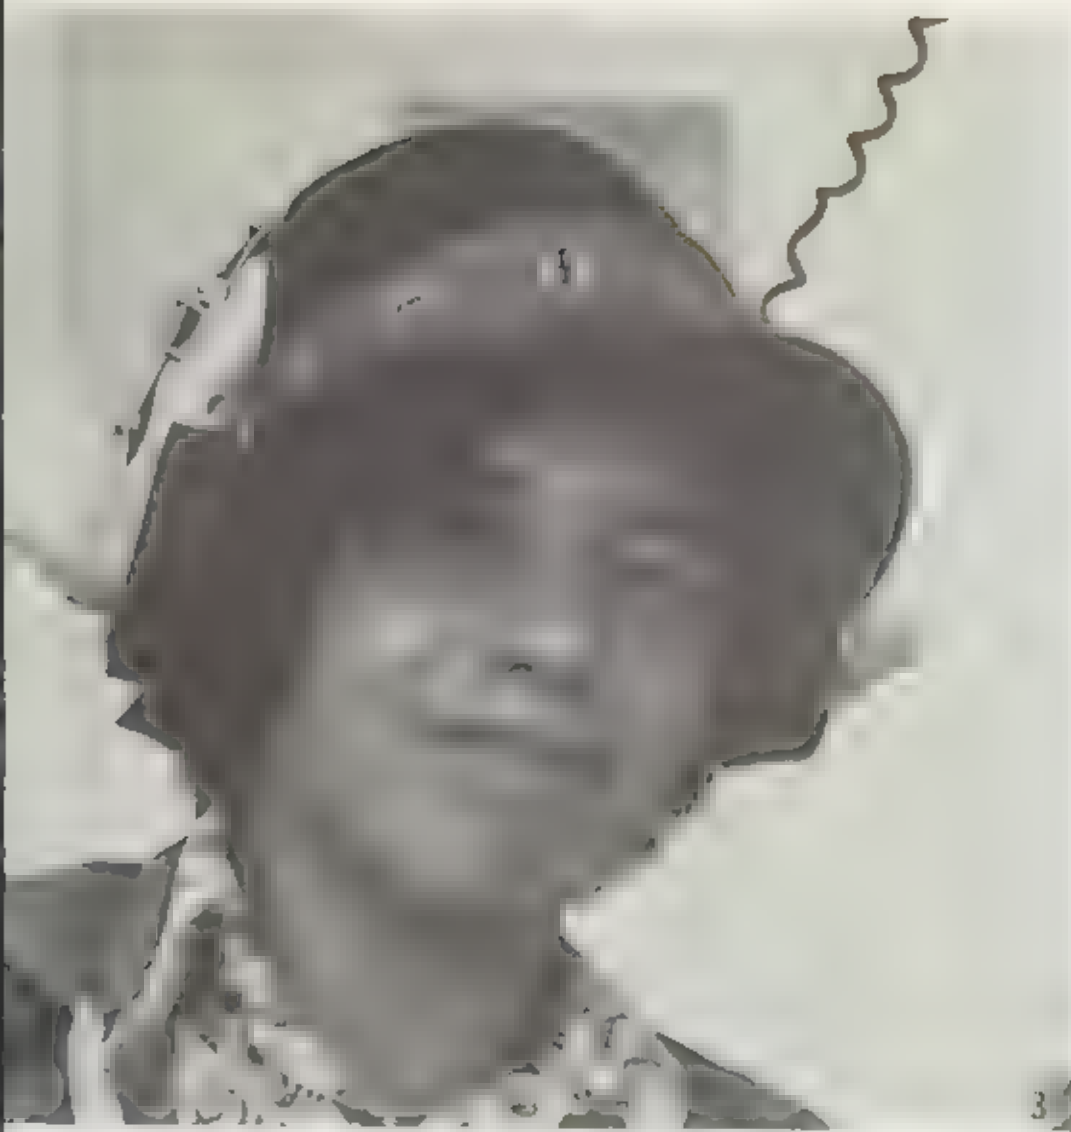

Mrs. Pat Haller

Foreign Language

1. Ms. Geraldine Johnson. 2. Miss Karyn Schluter. 3. Stephen Ruba listens to another language with the ear phones. 4. Freshmen boys concentrate hard when listening to their vocabulary. 5. David Acterhof assists Miss Schluter in putting things on the bulletin board. 6. Mike Robinson describes the painting on the window. 7. A typical setting in Miss Schluter's German class. 8. Ms. Johnson helps a student with a problem.

There are two foreign languages offered here at Galt High. They are Spanish, taught by Ms. Johnson, and German, taught by Miss Schluter. Most students, whose intentions are to go to college after graduation, take at least two years of one of these two foreign language classes because most four year colleges require it. Others take one of these classes simply because they wish to learn a foreign language.

may be" —Shakespeare

ORGANIZATIONS

Council Moved To Resources Center

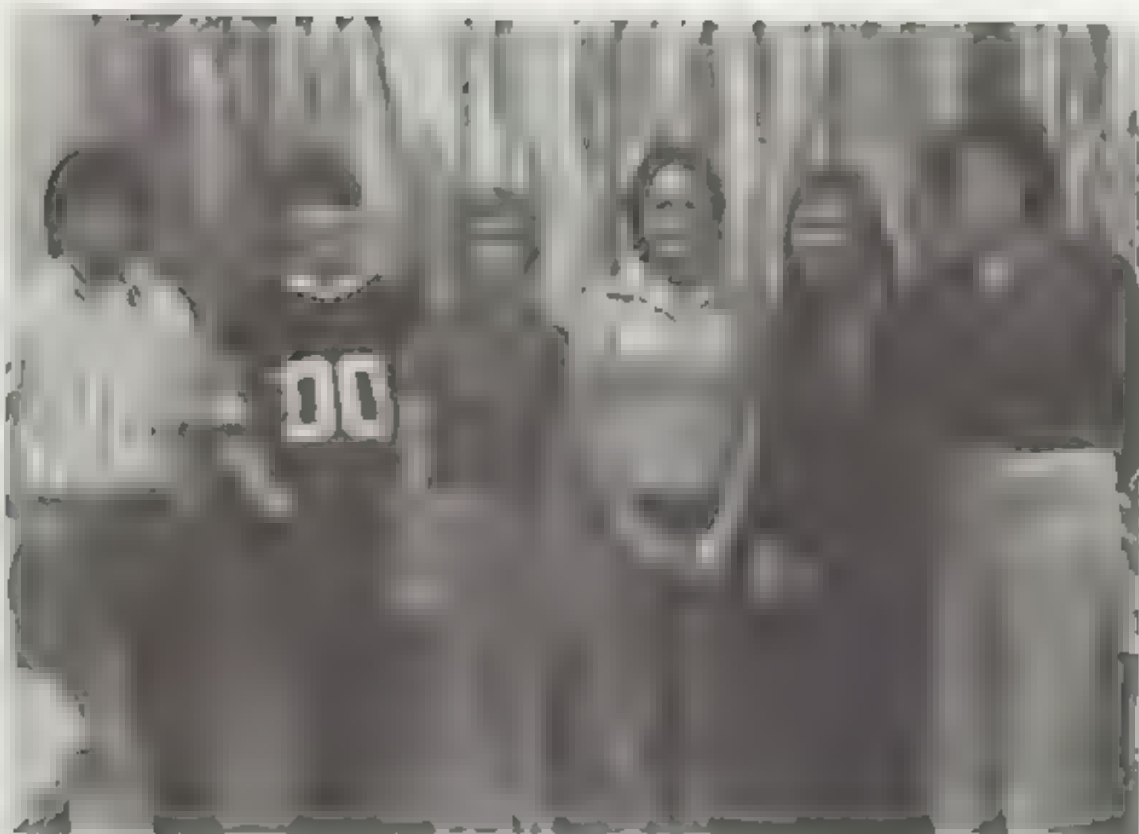

Student Council has a big job every year, but this year they had to move to new quarters in the Resource Building where the meetings are held.

This year Student Council sponsored the ICYE Breakfast, the Christmas Dance, a one-on-one basketball competition, school visitation days, assemblies, presentation of awards, and other kinds of entertainment for the student body.

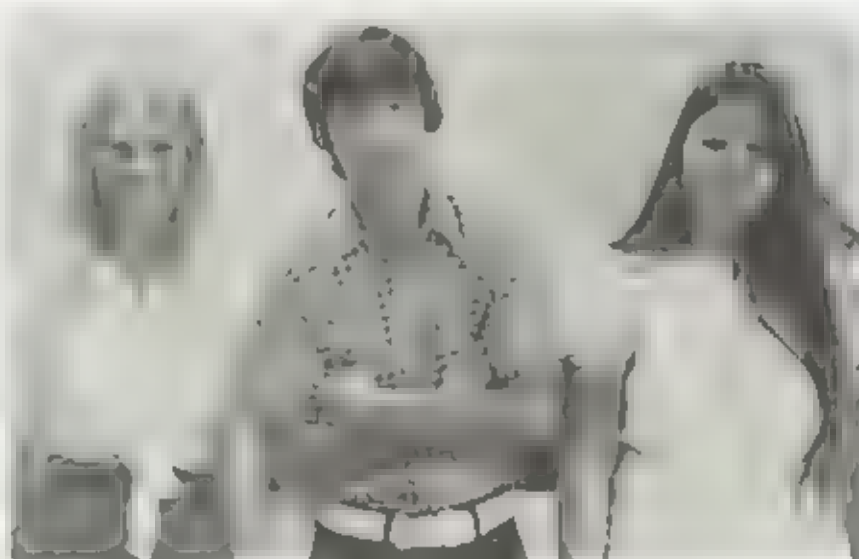

Goals set for Council by Mr. Fletcher were to build awareness of how government operated on campus, to help them understand how to work together, to make the student leadership aware that it was possible to change things. Other goals were how to manage the finances of student body and how to earn position of leadership by carrying out tasks. Mr. Fletcher said, "I like the way we have a pleasant time working together

Marching Band Won Parade Firsts

Again this year, the Galt High School Band was highly active. They began their hard work during the summer to prepare for marching in the Lodi and Galt parades. In both, they placed first. This was only the beginning. Every Tuesday and Thursday nights, the band practiced, through all kinds of weather, their formations to supply the Galt fans with half-time shows. The Pep Band also played for league basketball games.

They have been greatly honored on two occasions this year by being invited to perform at the East-West Shrine game and at Cal Band Day.

Pepsters Strove To Raise Spirits

Lisa Lopes and Andrea Nottoli, Mascots.

Promoting spirit at the games and rallies, supporting the teams in victory as well as defeat, and stressing a "have more spirit" attitude was the job of this year's pep squad.

Upon election, Pep Squad began funding events to help pay for their future expenses. Expenses included a six-day stay at the national cheerleader camp in Santa Barbara. The girls brought home many new ideas. One was this year's homecoming theme, "THE WARRIOR STING."

Pep Squad stages rallies to help promote school spirit. They organized an outstanding homecoming rally around this year's theme, and sponsored Friday Color Day and Spirit Week. Students, as usual, were apathetic toward new and different things. This despite all the hard work by the members of the pep squad.

LHS Active in School Affairs

L.H.S., standing for Letterman's Honor Society, is a club for men who have lettered in inter-scholastic sports. They sponsored an after game dance during football season. They also as usual cleaned up the stadium after each football game. There was a basketball game that they sponsored between the Galt High faculty and the Harlem Nationals, a clown team L.H.S planned to go to a Golden State Warriors basketball game this year also.

Officers this year were Terry Flannery, vice-president; Gary McCune, president; Rick Erich, secretary; and Scott Setterlund, treasurer.

The forensic team established Galt as serious competition in the Yosemite Forensic League this season. Our speakers came off exceptionally well in programmed reading, dramatic interpretation and humorous interpretation. Other categories open for competition were original oratory, debate, extemporaneous, impromptu and expository speaking.

The competition, offered by as many as twenty-eight other schools, was stiff but the team had boundless energy—rising at dawn to pack into cars and travel to tournaments in towns as far away as Ventura, where they spent the whole day meeting new people and challenges.

As one team member put it, "The whole hassle is worth it when you hear your name called and they hand you that little silver or gold disc. But even if you don't win a medal, there's always the satisfaction of doing something you enjoy and doing it to the best of your ability."

Thespians Opened New Auditorium

"Act well your part — there all the honor lies." Thespian Troupe #839 have found a new home in the new auditorium. The first production, "The Mouse That Roared," came off after three postponements. An audience of 375 people came to watch the 32 cast members.

Members attended Delta Drama Day, a December workshop in Stockton. The annual Christmas program combined efforts of the music and drama departments.

Ending the year were two one-acts, "I'm Herbert!" and "Sunday Costs Five Pesos", plus the musical, "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown".

Thespians raised money by selling candles in December. Part of the funds went to send several Thespians to this year's regional conference in Newport Beach.

Warrior Achieved Statewide Honor

In 1974, the Warrior, published bi-weekly achieved statewide recognition in the California Newspaper Publishers Association. It won second place in three individual categories; general excellence, best sports story, and the best general news story

Under the leadership of Vicky Berreth and the supervision of Mr. Lucas, the paper printed articles relating to academics, school and town meetings, humor, human interest, and an outstanding section for sports

ACTIVITIES

Teresa Parker Voted '74 Queen

Anticipation, hopes, fears, and a lot of worries hit the student body early in October with Homecoming '74

Pep squad was busy practicing for the rally and selecting a zingy theme, The Warriors Sting, while clubs and classes were busy selecting princesses.

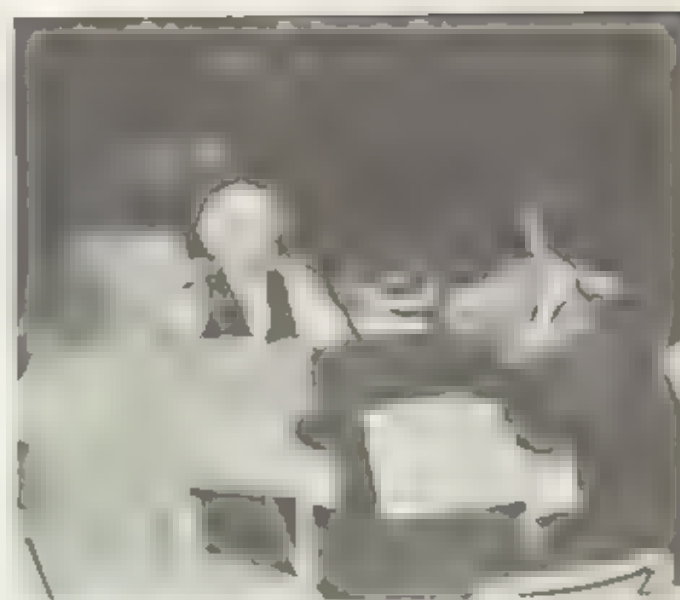

With the worry, work, and all-around fun, it all took shape the Thursday night rally. In the crowded gym, the atmosphere was tense and at a fever pitch. Guest speaker, Terry Patterson, former '49er pro, added to the excitement. But the suspense mounted as the five finalists were escorted out of the audience.

Teen, a name— Teresa Parker was named Queen for 1974.

Parade Game Livened Friday

At the game, between Varsity and Frosh-soph games, the hours of planning and decorating floats and cars were on display

Both teams made a clean sweep of the games with Bret Harte. Varsity won 21-13 Frosh-soph zeroed in at 26-0

1. Costa gained a few more yards. 2. Jennifer Tripp graced the sophomore float. 3. The Queen and her court make a grand entry. 4. FFA and Kathy Bennett in the swing with the Warriors Sting. 5. Yearbook Staff Recruits Many

The Hi-Lights staff of 1975 had only 4 returnees from the '74 list. Two of the three, Lisa Herrera and Richard Andres, became Co-Editors. Jeff Wold returned to head the photo section. The staff was comprised of 11 people, 9 seniors, and 2 juniors. Even with this very small staff, they did their best to put together what we consider the best yearbook published.

Of course, with every deadline came another bottle of the famous Volbrecht Ulcer Medicine

1. Jeff Wold, head photographer, works diligently on an assignment. 2. Lisa Herrera and Richard Andres, co-editors. 3. John Morgan, assistant sports editor, works on Fine Arts layout. 4. Nez Lourence, business manager. 5. Mrs. Volbrecht believes in keeping things neat. 6. Lisa Herrera, co-editor, eats her lunch while working during deadline week. 7. Dan Gerling, Gregg Culhane, and Jeff Wold, photographers. 8. Debbie Dodge, Tammy Breitmaier, Kathy Horst, and Lorna Benge, editorial staff. 9. Mrs. Jane Volbrecht, advisor. 10. John Morgan and Randy Woolstrum, sports editors. 11. Richard Andres, co-editor, types out final draft.

Marciel Named FFA Sweetheart

Junior Molly Marciel was crowned Chapter Sweetheart of FFA at the Barn Dance on November 2, 1974. Ed Pullen, president crowned Molly and claimed his traditional reward, a kiss. Her attendants were Kathy Bennett, senior, Kim Calvert, sophomore and Arlene Van Warmadam, freshman

Members had decorated the gym in Western motif, with an old-fashioned barn, the J.C. Coote Saloon, and the Whiskey County Jail, as eye catchers. 4-Finger Jack, a country and western band added to the atmosphere

1. Ed claims the tradition kiss from Molly.
2. A tender moment for Dick and Holly.
3. The boys gather around the table for a cool drink of grape juice.
4. Janice pulls Virgil back for another dance.

Forensics Gained Meet Experience

The forensic team established Galt as serious competition in the Yosemite Forensic League this season. Our speakers came off exceptionally well in programmed reading, dramatic interpretation and humorous interpretation. Other categories open for competition were original oratory, debate, extemporaneous, impromptu and expository speaking.

The competition, offered by as many as twenty-eight other schools, was stiff but the team had boundless energy—rising at dawn to pack into cars and travel to tournaments in towns as far away as Ventura, where they spent the whole day meeting new people and challenges.

Actors Staged Four Productions

Drama held four very successful productions through the year. This does not include the spring concert which is held in May. These young and talented actors try hard to produce a play as it is written. THE MOUSE THAT ROARED was the first production. Stars were Denis Dean as Tully Bascom and Debbie Nyggard, as Queen Gloriana respectively

In February two-one act plays were produced. On May 1st and 2nd the play CHARLIE BROWN was presented. The stars are Charlie Brown: Denis Dean; Linus: Ernie Herrera; Schroeder: Richard Andres; Snoopy: Alan Weakly; Lucy: Dori DeAngelo; Patty Cheri Meeker

Winter Wonderland Greets Christmas

"Winter Wonderland" was the theme picked by student council when they once again sponsored the annual Christmas dance. Snowmen graced the attractively decorated tables with a Christmas tree holding beautiful Santa Clause favors. With Christmas spirit, couples entered into a winter wonerland of snowmen, Santas, and hearts to the musical sound of "Mystic Wine".

Galt's Warriors Go All the Way

Galt's Warrior football team started last spring by establishing 3 goals which they wished to secure for themselves and their school. First of all, they wanted to defend and keep their title as league champions. Second, they wanted to claim the title unblemished by loss. The third goal was to play in the playoff game, alias Corn Bowl, and win!

Well, thru guts, determination, and tedious drilling, our Warriors did all they set out to do, and did it superbly! They showed their great talent and intense desire for supremacy by massacring their three most powerful rivals, Ponderosa 29-0, Jesuit 31-0, and Marshall 41-0

The Warriors ended their season and drive for supremacy with their victory over the Valley Oaks League Champions 24-22, East Union, the Valley Oak Champs, won 10-0 before meeting the warriors

All-league offense selections are Chapman, McCune, Flannery, and Costa. All-league defense selections are Keesee, Wilcox, McCune, Chapman, and Costa. Those receiving Honorable mentions are Pullen and Wilcox, offense; Erich and King, Defense All-league kicking specialist was Biaggi. All-league Back of the year is Costa and All-league lineman of the year is Wilcox.

Little Warriors Came on Tough

The little Warriors fought a back-and-forth battle this year. They were able to maintain a 2-2-1 record, in league competition, with a seasonal record of 5-2-2. The team carried on Galt tradition of tough football. Determination allowed them to finish second with El Dorado.

Frosh Couldn't Put it Together

Led by Coach Gene Nunez and his assistant, Don Dodds, the freshman team compiled a season record of 1-1-4. They showed determination, but were unable to stop their opponents. Don Roa was the outstanding running back and the leading scorer for the team this season.

Varsity Takes Second-Billing

With 7 returnees from the 1973—1974 squad, this years Varsity Basketball team ended the year in 2nd place again. This is the 4th time in a row that the Warriors had to bow to Jesuit. Jesuit, however, will be in another league in 1976—1977. The Warriors ended the season with a surprising 16 wins and 6 losses.

Two sophomores moved up to the Varsity level this year, and put on extra punch in the Warriors already strong offense, which set a school scoring record of 92 points.

The Warriors also, took the championship at the Galt Christmas tournament and the consolation championship at the Lincoln Invitational, tying the tournament scoring record at 91 in their final game at Lincoln.

Girls Competed In League Meets

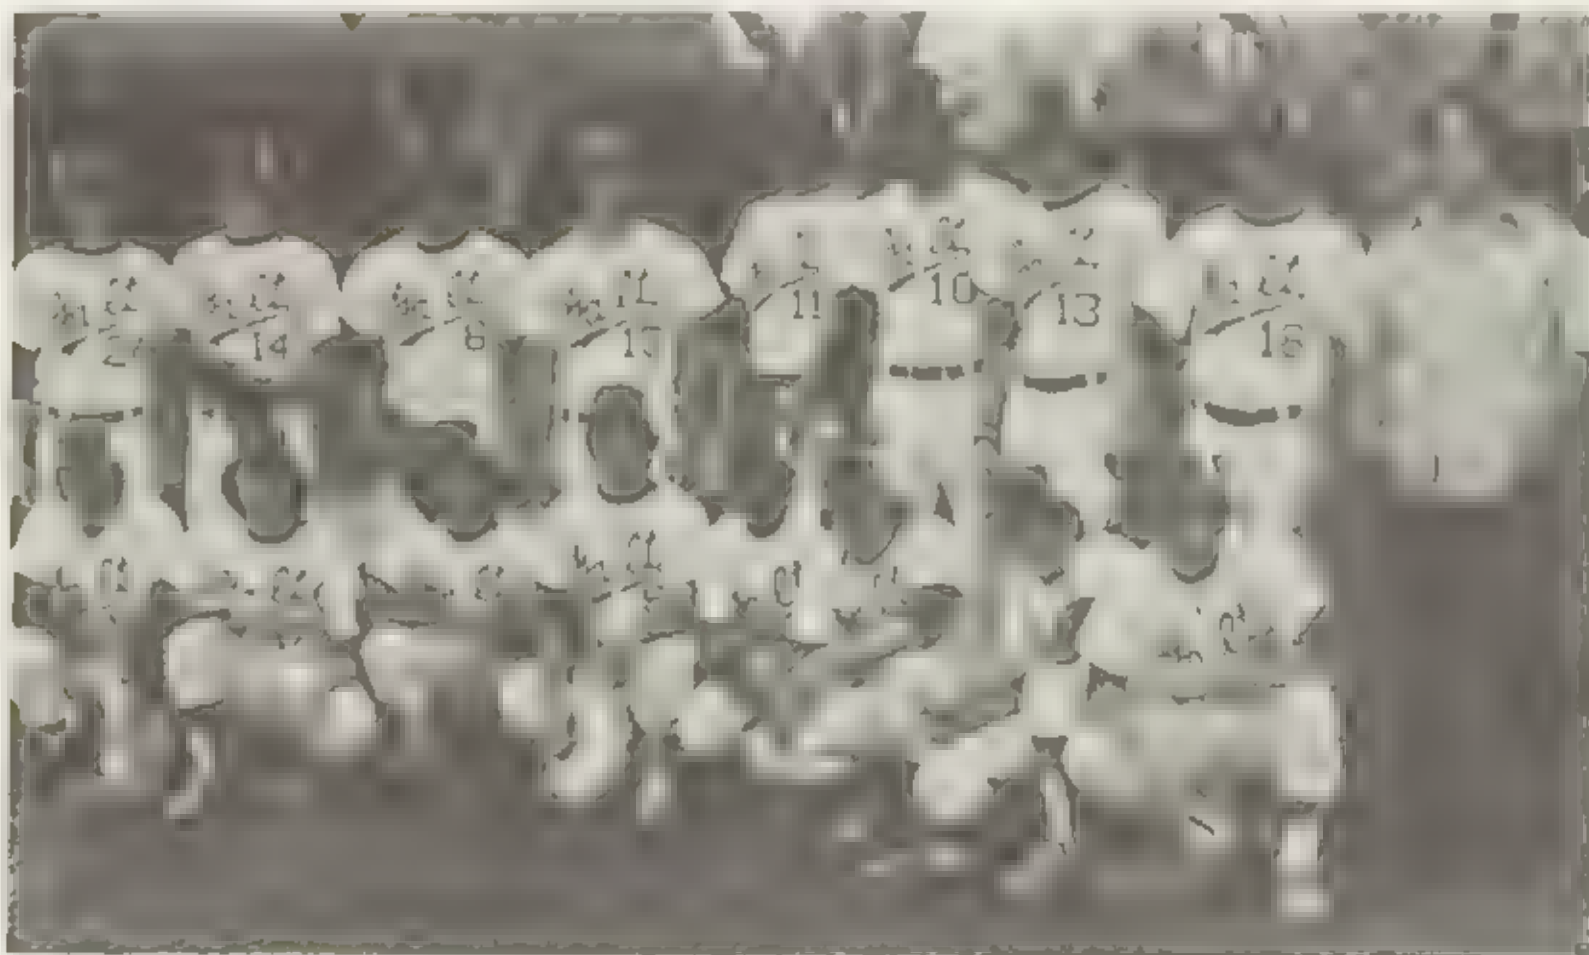

For the first time, girls were on a schedule for athletic competition in the GEL league. The first time out, tennis players captured first place.

From the ranks of the GAA competition, came the members of the teams, in tennis, basketball, and track. In tennis and basketball a total of five girls were named to all-league honors.

Tennis and basketball are coached by Mrs. Rose Gonzalez, and Mrs. Barbara Borem coached the track team.

Rainy Weather Plagued Track

The track team this year was small, but showed talent in many members out for the first time. Out of the 25 athletes that went out for track this year, 8 were returning members. All of the veterans either medaled or showed great promise last year.

There was also a controversy this year over a decision by principles of the G.E.L. schools. The decision was to substitute all league patches for medals and to decide the league championship by the team that wins the most meets instead of the best team in the league meet.

Board of Trustees

Last year the board members were seeing the new buildings in the planning stage. This year they can see how their hard work has become a reality, as our new buildings have approached completion. All that remains to complete are the final touches, and landscaping.

The board discusses a variety of topics, such as buying buses, and textbooks, field trips and the curriculum each month.

Superintendent

Mr. Fletcher's job is to see that the school runs smoothly throughout the year. Mr. Fletcher as superintendent has many duties to keep district affairs running smoothly, also. He is charged with carrying out the policies established by the board of trustees. He delegates responsibilities to members of the staff

Mr. Seifert and Mr. Pullen study the facts.

Mr. Fletcher smiles shyly.
Mr. Fletcher also works hard on important matters.

Principal and Vice-Principal

Mr. Littleton, principal, has had a busy year directing all the myriad activities of the school. He has gotten us into the new buildings and kept things running smoothly at the same time.

Mr. Henry Mellon, vice-principal, is new to the campus this year. He is learning the student body and the layout of the school this season. He will become a veteran next year. He keeps track of the events scheduled, counsels with recalcitrants, and keeps tab on the attendance figures.

CLASSES

Seniors Trod Upon New Sod

Their Junior year was not exactly the most peaceful with all the construction taking place, but this year the Seniors were able to see that their suffering was not in vain. The Seniors were not only fortunate enough to see the new offices, auditorium, and library opened to them, but they also used the new swimming pool. Had they graduated one year earlier, they would not have had the opportunity. The Seniors were really a pretty blessed class.

Sophs Featured Dance, Rings

It's a long road to maturity, but the class of 1977 seemed to take great strides toward it. Another year of work and play behind them, they look forward to the first year as upperclassmen

The excitement of selecting class rings, and sponsoring a fall dance for money toward next year were the chief activities of the sophomore class

Frosh Got It All Together Early

They came in September from the elementary schools, friends and strange strangers both to conquer high school.

Moving quickly into the mainstream, these new faces worked to elect a slate of officers, establish a constitution, and raise a treasury through the sale of magazines.

This class was the first to begin on the newly renovated campus. When they leave in four years, they will be leaving the old campus.

The 1974—1975 school year was a hard year to describe

We felt the bite of the energy crisis, although the astronomically high gas prices did not stop the students of Galt High School from cruising the drag.

During 1974, we saw President Nixon resign and now we have in office President Ford and Vice-President Rockefeller, neither of whom we voted into office.

We have seen our government shaken from the inside, and yet we are still the greatest nation on the face of the earth

Some positive points right here on our campus were the construction of the first swimming pool. We have a new auditorium, and a grand champion football team.

Don't forget the tearing down and the building up of the high school. We have been destroyed at least four times. In the 64 years since its founding in 1911, our school has progressed to a fine secondary school.

The staff of the Highlights has worked very hard on this year's book. We wish to thank our photographer Jerry Cook for a singular job as always, and Sherri Johnson, who took from her time to help us

The staff rates a well done for its hard work and another thank you to the faculty and students for their cooperation and help. As co-editor, I would like to say thanks for being allowed to be a part of all this

The staff dedicates this edition, volume 50 to the Future, in the hope that man will strive for peace, harmony, and the improvements that society needs in order for us to survive.

CO-EDITOR
RICHARD ANDRES

Joe

As we say goodbye to the old school year we seem to just give a sigh of relief. We've witnessed many changes not only in the whole United States, but also on our own high school campus.

At the beginning of the year we trampled through mud and sticks to get to our classes, but now we see that all of the hustle and bustle has settled down and we now have a brand new high school with new landscaping. It is very nice to look at, but I'm sure that all of us will still cherish the memories of how it was to walk through the halls and up and down the stairs of our old school building.

God bless and keep all of you, and for those of you who are to remain here, "Study to shew thyself approved unto God..." II Tim. 2:15

I have been at Galt High School for two years. In this two-year span, I have learned many things. Mainly, I have matured, in my opinion, to the adult stage. The teachers at Galt are of a very unique nature. One of the teachers that taught me many things I learned during my short but memorable stay was Mr Don Nottoli. Mainly, he taught me the ability to cope with others. I would just like to say to everyone, and especially my Dad, for giving me the chance to attend Galt High School. THANK YOU!

From Here to Reality

The school door is closed. But your education is far from complete. It is just beginning. Yesterdays lectures don't apply to tomorrow's problems. Yesterday the most important thing you learned was how to learn. Tomorrow brings graduate school or a job, a mortgage, marriage, parenthood, success — or failure.

From now on you are playing for real, not for marks on a report card. So to the class of '75, we say this: You can look upon your education as a tough grinding accomplishment and sit back to ask, "Now where's my reward?" or you can look upon it as preparation for the uncertain reality which lies ahead. Choose now.

Along with being a finalist in various speech contests, Marty Ashwanden is also the DAR (Daughters of American Revolution) Citizenship Award winner, Gemco Scholarship winner, and the Betty Crocker Homemaker winner. Marty has been selected to be put in the book WHO S WHO AMONG AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS.

This year we are very fortunate to have two foreign students, Sigrun Finke from Germany, and Aomi Mariko from Japan. Here is what they have to say about Galt High School:

I am very glad to have had a chance to come to this school. I live with a very nice family and the teachers, kids and other people are so kind and friendly. I really like them. It will be a good memory.

Mariko Aomi

Bank of America Scholarship winners were: Bernie Gomes, Fine Arts; Sherri Johnson, Vocation Arts; Paul Nakao, Math; Jennifer Morehead, Drama; Robin Johnson, English; Nellie VanEgmond, Home Ec; Helmuth Cote, Foreign Language; Vicki Berreth, Art; Leslie Frazier, Business; Tony Niccolini, Ag; John King, Science; Gary McCune, Social Science, and Marty Ashwanden, Liberal Arts

"I am Sigrun Finke, foreign exchange from Duisburg, Germany. I stay with Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Fletcher. I really enjoy my stay.

Someone asked me, what I think about Galt High School. I really like Galt High. The students are very friendly and nice, especially the Student Council members. But one thing it's much easier to study here than in Germany. The teachers are much more student oriented. I appreciated their help and friendship.

I thank International Christian Youth Exchange for bringing me here."
